Joe and Karren – let's please reconcile these costs ASAP, then let's compare to estimates that have already been released in various SitReps, so we are consistent as I suspect costs haven't yet all been invoiced to A8K9. Be sure to copy Aaron on reconciled costs.

Karren, only A8K9 (from 8/4/2015 to present, all OUs, no ATSDR or DOJ, I'll try to get a form down to you, but please start on this without that) – then can we compare with the SitReps and decide what number to release to CPR.

Aaron, please follow-up on Monday if this isn't resolved today.

We can also decide to use the number from SitRep 45 just sent by HQ, however, I have no idea where those numbers came from – also, I doubt they include personnel, travel, and other costs, but again, not sure.

The latest sitrep #45 we received (for October 13) shows estimated response costs reported of $14,458,094 as of October 7.

Nothing more recent in print from the region.

LMK if we need to dig further.

Eugene

Not entirely sure the best folks to help with these two questions. Please loop in folks as needed.

Grace Hood from Colorado Public Radio is asking:

1. How much has EPA spent on Gold King Mine cleanup so far?
2. Also, how much has EPA given out in its program to compensate businesses affected by the spill?

Thanks,

Christie
